PROFILE

Abigail is a Law and International Relations student with a particular focus on public law, national and international commercial arbitration, and complex dispute resolution. Her background reflects both academic excellence and a strong orientation toward legal argumentation, research, and critical analysis of cases. She has undertaken early professional experiences in the public sector and in private firms, enabling her to become acquainted with the practical realities of litigation.

She has been recognized on the Chancellor's Honor List at Universidad San Francisco de Quito for her outstanding academic performance. Her profile is marked by intensive participation in arbitration and oral advocacy competitions, including representing USFQ at the 33rd Willem C. Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot. She has acted as an oralist in the international commercial arbitration competition held in Lima and in the 2025 national arbitration and banking law competition. These experiences have enhanced her capacity to build procedural strategies, handle complex mock disputes, and collaborate in high-pressure teams, reinforcing her commitment to arbitration and dispute resolution.
